

2018 QUÉBEC ELECTIONS Génome Québec congratulates the new Government

Montréal, October 2, 2018 — The President and CEO of Génome Québec, Daniel Coderre, would like to congratulate the new Premier of Québec, François Legault, and his team. The election of a majority Government that places economic prosperity at the top of its priorities is welcome news.

As an organization dedicated to research and innovation, Génome Québec is a leading player in Québec, where life sciences and innovation are a driving force of economic development.

“We are confident that the new Government will support this key sector in Québec. Given its unique business model and its operational flexibility, Génome Québec is well positioned to stimulate the contribution of the private sector and other partners,” said Daniel Coderre.

Génome Québec hopes to see the new government continue to support research and innovation in order to create the best possible conditions for promoting the growth of genomics, thus contributing to the competitiveness of Québec, which continues to play a leadership role in research and development in the life sciences sector. As such, the Coalition avenir Québec (CAQ) Government can count on Génome Québec’s full cooperation.

About Génome Québec
